We are happy to announce that we've found a new host for our hacks! We apologize for all of the website issues this year, and we hope we can finally put all of this behind us as soon as the download library is restored. Our new host is ShareMods.com, and we are currently in the process of moving all the hacks over there. Most of the recommended versions of hacks should already be downloadable. ShareMods.com has a difference from other hosts, in that the website shares its advertising revenue with the uploader, so a small amount of money will be paid out for each download. We want to assure everyone that this is a very low income, and will mainly cover our server costs. Any surplus will be reinvested back into the community, as SM64Hacks is 100% non-profit. To prove we stay true to our word, an open accounting section will soon be available, where all our costs and incomes will be found. We've thought of many ways to spend a potential surplus, like a hacking competition with prizes, or to improve our website, or to help other related websites or projects grow. If you have any ideas, feel free to post it in our forums. Note: We are aware of a captcha-related error while registering, we will attempt to fix this shortly. If you need a forum account immediately, please contact Vidoy#8767 on Discord. Update: Unfortunately, if you didn't get a chance to play this fan-made love note to the classic game when it first launched, you might not ever. According to The Next Web, Nintendo's legal team has pulled the plug on one host of the game, Cloudflare. While it's reportedly still available from other hosting providers, those are likely to be asked to shut it down as well. Original story follows. If you grew up in the '90s, Super Mario 64 was your jam, no exceptions. But not everyone still has an N64 lying around. Good news today, then, you can now play the Nintendo masterpiece in your browser. It's just the first level, Bob-Omb Battlefield, and it's missing some things, like a few moves and the area's red coins. But what's there is a beautiful (peep those HD graphics!) and mostly-faithful recreation. If trying to play with your browser's Unity web player slows your computer to a crawl, you can also download versions for Windows, OS X and Linux from developer Roystan Ross's website. Princess Peach baked you a cake, but you'll have to read more of TechRadar's blips - and find 70 Power Stars - before you can have a slice. Via The Next Web Apple TV 4K Review (Image credit: Stephen Warwick / iMore) Someone has successfully ported Super Mario 64 to the Apple TV. It runs natively at 60fps and at full screen. The Apple TV 4K (2021) is a great home entertainment hub for gaming and viewing alike, and now someone has successfully ported Nintendo's classic Super Mario 64, running in 60fps and at full screen. ckosmic over on Reddit announced: Hey everyone. A couple of months ago I ported Super Mario 64 to iOS (and since then I've been making improvements to it here and there. This past week I got it up and running on the Apple TV which, as shown here, runs it perfectly with the 60fps patch and full screen. Note that this is running natively on the Apple TV and uses no emulation whatsoever thanks to the sm64 decompilation project and sm64ex. To run this yourself, you'd need to build it from source on a Mac using Xcode, so this isn't quite the plug and play convenience of Apple Arcade, but it still looks cool nonetheless, there's even a video! ckosmic told commenters that the original decompilation/pc port for Super Mario 64 likely took "years" to create. They were able to make an iOS port in about a week, with a couple more weeks needed to get touch controls and the menu working. Thanks to the similarities between tvOS and iOS this Apple TV version only took a couple of days. Of all the Mario Games on Nintendo Switch, Super Mario is one of the coolest, available in the Super Mario 3D All-Stars bundle that features Super Mario Sunshine, Super Mario 64, and Super Mario Galaxy. super-mario-64-tutorials super-mario-64-tutorials.txt · Last modified: 2020/06/13 17:29 by jesusyoshi54 Welcome to my tutorial page. I can teach you Hacking Skills and techniques in a more understanding simple way. The gadget spec URL could not be found. click here to go back to homepage How to Edit Collision types in Super Mario 64. To do this... (You can only do this with your Obj. files until I find out how to edit it on toad's Tool 64) Anyway... First after you made your Obj file and Imported it into your folder.... You need to open up the folder you put it in and "Open up the Obj.Files MTL file with Text documentary" . Once you have it open and stuff... find the texture you want to edit... For Example : "lava0001.png" . now under that texture you would put something under it to make that collision to work... So for lava it would be " collisionType 1 " Just like that and you would save and once you import it with frauber's Object Importer GUI . it will work.... If you step on that lava you will BURN! so that would mean it worked.... Also if you want all the collision types go to Frauber's Website Here .. >>>> How to edit the music in SM64 : to add music you must have tools cmd , insert_seq , and music .m64 files. thanks to Frauber . . Anyway your gonna want to get the command prompt so you are gonna go to the start menu and click My computer. then your gonna click OS>Windows>System32>Command prompt and you're gonna right click and copy. then paste it in the same folder the insert_seq is in. now to get songs to put in the game is to get seq_rip from frauber's web. and re copy cmd and paste it in the folder seq_rip is in. now get your extended Super Mario 64 rom and drag it in the SEQ_Rip file. Now your gonna rename your rom Mario.z64 and then run cmd and type in exactly this; "seq_rip mario.z64 0x7B0860" once you have done that it has rip all mario 64 sequences. Now drag the insert_seq program in the same folder the cmd , the rom , and seq_rip is in. then run cmd again and for a test type this in "insert_seq seq_18 mario.z64 02" then press enter and BOOM . your song has been inserted. How to swap backgrounds in SM64: Now this is pretty hard for people who just started hacking Mario 64. Now what you are gonna do first is download something called Cygnus hex editor. once you have . Load up toad's tool 64 and pick any level you want to swap backgrounds with. Okay. Now you are at your level now click the expert bar in the top left corner and once have , go down one and find this box with colors Red Green Blue Gray. Now scroll down with that and look for the 0x17 editor and click it. once have . Go down and look for number 007 in hexadecimal form on toadstool and find the 0x0A (HAO) and click it. once you have done that . look at the Rom address in the bottom left corner in hexadecimal form and remember the numbers example : 0454AF8 (Castle Grounds) now once you have that stored in your head it is time to open Cygnus hex editor and your gonna open your rom . Keep in mind to leave toad's tool 64 running while doing this. Now on Cygnus hex editor click edit then click go to : Type in the Rom address hint example : 0454AF8 and click go. Now find the bankset start and here are all the backgrounds: Haunted House = C3AFD5-C4F915 = 06Cool Cool Mountain = B5D855-B7D995 = 04Shifting Sand Land = C12E95-C32FD5 = 05Bob-omb Battlefield = B35715-B55855 = 00Snow Man's Land = B5D855-B7D995 = 04Wet Dry World = BC2C15-BE2D55 = 02Jolly Roger Bay = B85995-B9A2D5 = 08Tiny Huge Island = B35715-B55855 = 00Rainbow Ride = BEAD55-C0AE95 = 03Castle Grounds = B35715-B55855 = 00Bowser 1 Course = C57915-C77A55 = 07Bowser's Fire Sea = BA22D5-BBAC15 = 01Secret Aquarium = BEAD55-C0AE95 = 03Bowser Third Course = C7FA55-C9FB95 = 09Lethal Lava Land = BA22D5-BBAC15 = 01Dire Dire Docks = B35715-B55855 = 00Whomp's Fortress = BEAD55-C0AE95 = 03Castle Courtyard = C3AFD5-C4F915 = 00Wing Cap = BEAD55-C0AE95 = 03Bowser First Battle = C57915-C77A55 = 07Rainbow Clouds = BEAD55-C0AE95 = 03Bowser Second Battle = BA22D5-BBAC15 = 01Bowser Third Battle = C7FA55-C9FB95 = 09Tall Tall Mountain = B35715-B55855 = 00 Now once your are at the slot then since example is castle grounds find the bankset start which is B35715 and it should look like this That says the bankset start B35175 now you just change it to something else like the Lethal lava land one which is BA22D5 . Then the offset end is B55855 and this is where the offset end starts . And the offset end for this is B55855 which is up there to for Castle grounds and we would replace it to BBAC15 (lethal lava lands) offset end. Now for the tricky part. click edit and click find and type in 19 00 00 xx 80 27 the xx stands for the two bankset offset numbers which for castle grounds is 00 which is up there as well. so you would type 19 00 00 80 27 and click find. then you will see a section like this: See where it says 19 00 00 00 . now lethal lava lands would be 19 00 00 01 so if that's so. click the 3rd row 00 from 19 and replace it with the bankset offset number which would be 01 then click save and it is done. the project will look like this : to this. hope it helps. Also a sneak peek found of Toad's tool 64 0.6 is found by me. There will be a section that will let you switch backgrounds. Here is what it looks like so far. How to edit the ground type: Now I would have to say this is the most simplest thing to do in toad's tool 64. Okay. so you open up your extended rom with toad's tool 64. now go to the top left corner and click expert now scroll down the first menu and get to terrain type now take off hexadecimal for this. anyway , once you have took it off. Example: Castle Grounds Terrain type will say O. now here are all the terrains : O=Solid 2=snow 3=sand 6=slide now your gonna hold the Alt. key and click on that number. Now replace it with any of these terrains and save and your done. Hope it helps. How to use Obj_Import. Anybody stuck with this probably has no idea how to make Obj Wavefront files. Well....it is really easy . 1. you need to download Google Sketchup V. 7.1 ; just type that in on google ; anyway..... 2. once you have done that , Download Frauber's Obj Importer (Latest Version) 3. Now go on google again and type in PDX-POM. (Basically to unpatch the obj file. 4. Now you open up the Obj Importer File. And take the file obj_exporter.rb and drag it into the google sketchup plugin file. 5. Now you open google sketchup. Simple enough and make the design of the level. 6. Now look at the toolbar on top and find Plugins>Obj Exporter. 7. Now click where you want to save and name it. 8. Once you do that , click the export button and wait.....And soon it will say done. 9. Now you saved it. Now you are gonna drag your clean extended rom into ROM_EXPAND Program. 10. After that ; Load up PDX-POM and click Iso File 11. Once there change CD Images to ALL FILES, and click the extended rom. 12. Then Click Patch file and click the Obj File Patch. 13. Then click apply. 14. Now open up Obj Importer GUI . 15. click Obj. File and select your Obj Export file you made with google sketch-up . 16. Now click the extended Rom folder and choose the same extended rom that has been expanded and patched with the Obj_import patch. 17. then just choose your background, choose the type of area , And Click apply and your done.
